

DR. SANGEETA SHARMA,
MBBS, MD (Pharmacology)

Dr. Sangeeta Sharma worked in academics as a Professor & Head, Department of Neuropsychopharmacology, Institute of Human Behaviour & Allied Sciences, Delhi for 15 years. She has done her MD (Pharmacology) in 1991. She has done post graduate certificate course in Quality Management and Accreditation of Health Care Organizations (QMAHO). She was Technical co-ordinator INDIA-WHO Essential Drugs Programme and was Adviser, 12th Expert Committee on the Use of Essential Drugs, World Health Organization, Geneva and also Member Secretary, Committee for Selection of Essential Medicines, GoNCTD for 7 years.

She was Convener of State Working Group on Facilitated Quality Assurance Programme, GoNCT of Delhi, and has served as a Member, High Level Committee for Costing of Health Services, GoNCTof Delhi, and Member of the Working Group on Accessibility to Essential Medicines, National Commission on Macroeconomics and Health, Ministry of H & FW, Gol. She has worked with various international organizations in the field of rational use of drugs such as WHO, World Bank, Dfid, GFATM. She has advised several Indian states in developing drug policies, essential drugs tests, standard treatment guidelines, standard operating procedures, quantification of drug needs etc.

Her areas of interest are clinical pharmacology and rational use of drugs. She has published several papers in international and national journals. She has published several books also and one of the outstanding books widely acclaimed had been “Standard Treatment Guideline” for doctors and “Good Store Management Practices” for pharmacists. She has extensive experience in conducting national and state level workshops for doctors, pharmacists and nurses. She has developed training module for nurses on role of Nurses in Promotion of Rational Use of Drugs.